About FMI Biblical Studies and Seminary

FMI Biblical Studies and Seminary, (FMIBS&S) is owned and operated by Flowers Ministries, Inc. Flowers Ministries, Inc. is a registered 501 (c) (3) federal nonprofit organization established in 1995. Our main objective is to reconcile lost souls to Christ through the propagation of the Gospels of Jesus Christ.

FMIBS&S offers educational training in the areas of Theology, Christian Ministry, Divinity and Biblical Matters. All tuition is tax deductible.

FMIBS&S does not discriminate on the basis of race, color, age, gender, national or ethnic origin, or physical handicap.

Mission Statement

Our mission is to be a primary resource for the cities and communities we serve. We strive to provide guidance and the necessary elements to restore the economic, mental, and physical security of our students and faculties.

We endeavor to provide quality yet economical education! We offer several degree options from Certificate programs to Doctorates.

Our Philosophy of Education

FMI Biblical Studies and Seminary believes that as God should be the center of our lives, the reality of His existence and the power of His Word should be the starting point of Christian education. Matthew 6:33 declares that above all things in our lives, we are to seek God and everything else will be provided for us. Education is important but must begin with God first; it should never be placed before your relationship and belief in Him.

This concept is demonstrated by the life of the Apostle Paul. He was a highly educated man who studied in the best Jewish educational institutions of that time (Acts 22:3). His education afforded him the ability to communicate effectively with various cultures. However, he could not assimilate nor apply the information into his life without the help of the Holy Spirit (Acts 17:28; Titus 1:12).

Apostle Paul admonishes us not to fall into the trap of "Ever learning, and never able to come to the knowledge of the truth" (2 Timothy 3:7, KJV version).

Education, although not specifically mentioned, is chronicled throughout the Word of God. In 2 Timothy 2:15 Christians are encouraged to, vour best to present vourself God one approved, a workman who does not need to ashamed and who correctly the word of truth" (NIV Version). In the handles KJV it says to "study". Study is not just the accumulation of knowledge, but it involves analysis, evaluation, assimilation the and application of the knowledge acquired. We must further consider the importance of education in the life of Jesus Christ, as the Word of God reads that He "...grew in wisdom and stature..." (Luke 2:52, NIV version).

Jesus Christ, who is the 2nd manifestation of the Trinity, subjected Himself to the educational process to assimilate knowledge through the human experience. Jesus, the Son of God, voluntarily participated in the educational process. The Book of Proverbs encourages children to pay attention not only to the instruction of their father but also to the application of it. Therefore, the FMI Biblical Studies and Seminary is an educational institution where church and organizational leaders are educated and equipped through intensive study and practical application.

It is our philosophy that God is intentional which means that to serve Him, we must also be intentional. Considering what is being conveyed to us about the pulpit and diaconal ministries, we feel that training is a pivotal part of the calling and the journey of each minister.

A CHRISTIAN SETTING FOR THE STUDY OF SCRIPTURE

A focus on Bible training, offering a broader theological and denominational perspective of an inter-denominational institution that encourages spiritual and academic growth. The Word of God is studied to change the student's heart, mind and actions.

Faculty are caring and offer the one-on-one mentoring needed to assist students in their participation in the college's dynamic spiritual formation program. Faculty and administrators care about students. In most cases, the students often know the names of many of the faculty and administrators.

Students take leadership roles in the Chapel Service, which provides them opportunities for leadership and spiritual development.

A CHRISTIAN SETTING TO EXPAND SOCIAL OPPORTUNITY

Student-led social activities serve to develop leadership skills in students.

The opportunity for social interaction in a Christian context is in itself a learning experience for students.

A PLAN FOR SERVICE OPPORTUNITIES

- Instructors are committed to ministry
- Training to fulfill the call of God on student's lives
- Develop networking relationships with established ministries

Secular society has a different motivation for service including self-gratification. Christian society promotes service to others based on agape love and reflects the basic theology of caring for others to build a healthy society.

A SETTING FOR DEVELOPING PERSONAL INDEPENDENCE

The security of caring counselors, spiritual classes with God-centered instruction, and a structure of accountability is often the stage of development where crucial questions concerning core beliefs and long-held values are asked. At FMIBS&S, critical thinking questions are encouraged but the safety net of godly instructors and positive peer groups are present. Students have the opportunity to focus on their purpose and seek God's will for their future.

Purpose of Seminary Graduate Programs

Some seminary graduate programs are designed specifically to prepare students for full-time ministry. All seminary academics are compiled toward producing a highly qualified, full-time minister of the Gospel.

Final Assessment

The Final Assessment of each student's record offers the Thesis Review Committee an opportunity to review and assess the results of all completed course work assignments, as well as the Thesis portion of each student's program. The Final Assessment is intended to determine whether the student's demonstrated level of competence and learning outcomes are, in fact, comparable to those expected from a student in a more traditional setting.

Upon successful completion of the review and assessment, the student will receive immediate acknowledgment, by letter, of the satisfaction of all graduation requirements. A formal Thesis Review Committee Report will be placed in the students' records. The degree and an official transcript will be mailed to the graduate on receipt from the engraver. The process normally requires four weeks.

Masters Degrees

Seminary masters programs are designed as professional degrees requiring extensive study and proficiency. Seminary master degrees are not terminal degrees, but are preparation for doctoral study.

We form men and women who care and who stand with courage to influence our local and global communities.

The Doctor of Ministry Project requires the student to identify something of interest at the local church or where the student has been performing ministry. The work of the student includes working at the church in a ministry role but also assisting the pastor or another staff person in the work of interest to the student. The project is divided into three parts: The Proposal, the Project, and the Defense. The Project will also play a key role in the assessment of the student's learning and also the use of the student's learning will be added to the aggregate to serve as a vital part of evaluation for the student.

The credit for the Major Project will be given as follows:

Proposal (1 credit hour)

The project will be a five-chapter model: Introduction, Review of Literature, Methodology, Results, and Conclusion. The proposal addresses the first three chapters and is submitted for approval prior to being permitted to complete the Report.

Report (4 credit hour)

The Report addresses the Results chapter based upon the methodology as approved during the Proposal portion of the project. Upon completion of the Results, the Conclusion is written, and the defense completed. The entire four hours of credit are awarded when the defense is defended and the final document submitted.

The Doctoral tracks are Missional Pastoral Ministry and Global Engagement. These two tracks prepare men and women to engage both local and global ministries. The challenges of the local communities are interconnected with that of the global community. Equipping men and women must cater for this contextual paradigm that is upon us. Our tracks are intentionally robust in their integration of global and local issues, of the classroom and real life, and of the dependence on the Holy Spirit with excellent stewardship. Our faculty teach, model, and mentor students as they journey through the curriculum. Our classroom fosters a holistic theologizing process that inspires students to take a fresh integrative outlook of God's heart for all peoples. The Doctor of Ministry program forms pastors and leaders with a humble dependence on the power and presence of Jesus Christ to do the impossible task He has called us to. We form men and women who care and who stand with courage to influence our local and global communities.

Track One: Missional Pastoral Ministry Track

Who are missional pastors? These are men and women who live with an ongoing consciousness of their 'pilgrim nature' and the idea of being sent. They are not at ease with the resident status quo and seek to develop the local church from a missional outlook. They understand that God, who is missional in nature, has orchestrated the sending of the Son, the Holy Spirit, and now the church to fulfill His Kingdom mandate. Missional pastoral ministry does not see a dichotomy between compassionate care within the walls of the church and outside of the walls of the church. They nurture their congregations, so they can go outside of the church and freely give it away. Therefore, missional pastors ensure the church's infrastructure is set up to flow with this mode of pastoring. The nature of the church reflects the missional nature of God. It is not doing missions to build one's church as seen in the convergent monolithic model that has become our acceptable norm.

Track Two: Global Engagement Track

The perspective of global and local interdependence is invaluable to both local and global ministries. How should ministries engage in global challenges that face the church? Social justice issues like racism, sexism, poverty, among others, have infiltrated both our local and global lives. In our interconnected world, the church faces ever-increasing pressure from different worldviews from the nations among us. This track seeks to equip men and women as leaders who will engage diverse world-views from a biblical stance, who will minister in context of social justice issues, and who will build a bridge between the church and global community. Students will investigate innovative ministry experiences that have seen lives transformed, communities empowered, and societies reformed through workable. Students will interact with leaders and scholars from local agencies, visit churches, non-profit agencies, and government agencies.

This track will be suitable for students who are pursuing vocational goals in missiology, the history of global mission, non-profit or social services leadership locally, nationally and internationally, international justice workers, and chaplains.

This course will investigate the sufficiency of existing western interpretative methodologies to address the global reader. Students will evaluate the hermeneutical approaches and interpretative paradigms of Asian, Euro-American, Latin American, and African Bible readers with a view to formulate renewed frames for Biblical interpretation.

THE 8400 Theology of Gender

This course is committed to the authority of Scripture and will research and discuss the two prevailing evangelical views, namely the complementarian and the egalitarian positions, with more focus on the later. The historic, biblical, theological, hermeneutical, and practical lens will be used for key passages in the bible.

THE 8410 Money, Possessions, Poverty in the Bible Today

Credits: 3 This course gives students an in-depth look at the themes of money, possession, and the poor in the Bible with a view to thoughtful ministry application today. The emphasis is on formulating a biblical and missional theology of possessions and social justice that has direct ministry application in today's globally connected world. Some of the themes covered include the obligation to care for the poor and the weak; production and accumulation of wealth; prosperity gospel; theology of retribution; missional use of possessions; biblical view of social justice; and biblical economics and stewardship. Along with the biblical and theological themes, the course will review best practices in missional and development literature that are applicable in ministry and missions setting locally and globally.

Standards of Conduct

FMI Biblical Studies & Seminary is a community of students, faculty, staff, and administration who are joined together for the purposes of academic enrichment, personal development, spiritual growth, and preparation for Christian ministry. Relationships and responsibilities in this community are built upon: (1) the teachings and principles of the inerrant and authoritative Word of God (2 Tim. 3:16,17), (2) the personal accountability of each member to a loving and sovereign God (1 Peter 1:17), and (3) the inner resources and attributes of the Holy Spirit to guide and minister to each other in all relationships (John 16:13,14).

Members of the FMI Biblical Studies and Seminary community should seek first and foremost to achieve the goal of 1 Corinthians 10:31, "...Whether you eat or drink or whatever you do, do it all for the glory of God" (1 Corinthians 10:31, NIV version). All activities and relationships should seek to accomplish this ultimate objective.

Guidelines for student conduct at FMI Biblical Studies and Seminary are few but important. Failure to live up to these guidelines may result in discipline, suspension, or dismissal. The guidelines of conduct are enforced.

- The Lord's Day (Sunday) is set apart primarily for worship, fellowship, ministry and rest of God's people. College programs and athletic events are not sanctioned or encouraged.
- 2. Scripture specifically prohibits stealing, sexual immorality, lying, cheating, gossiping, evil speaking against one another, profane language, occult practices, and attitudes such as pride, lust, bitterness, jealousy, and an unforgiving spirit. These prohibitions are clearly understood to be biblical commands that are binding upon every believer.
- 3. Since there is great danger to one's physical and psychological well-being with the use of certain elements, students are to refrain from the use of hallucinogenic drugs and substances (including marijuana), or narcotics not authorized by a physician. Under no circumstances are the above to be used, possessed, or distributed on or away from campus. The use of tobacco in any of its forms on or off campus. The use or possession of alcoholic beverages on campus. Attendance at nightclubs, bars, and similar places should be avoided.
- 4. Gambling is viewed as an unwise use of God-given resources. Therefore, it is not acceptable in any form on or off campus. Students should not attend places where gambling is the source of business or entertainment.
- 5. Pornographic materials are destructive and immoral and are not to be used, possessed, or distributed on or away from campus.
- 6. The College expects its members to be sensitive regarding the Christian testimony of their personal lives in representing the Church of Jesus Christ and FMI Biblical Studies and Seminary. Students are to be highly selective in choices of entertainment and recreation including television, videocassettes, motion pictures, theater, sports, reading materials, and music. Biblical standards, especially those in reference to immorality, worldly values, violence, profanity, sexuality, and nudity should serve as guidelines in making personal decisions in these areas. In addition, personal responsibilities in the areas of academics, employment, and finances should also influence decisions concerning entertainment.
- 7. Any kind of demeaning gesture or threats of violence or physical attack directed toward another person will not be tolerated. Vandalism, and stealing of property, services, or goods are also unacceptable. Any conduct that could lead to physical injury or property damage.
- 8. Because of the biblical teaching concerning the dignity and worth of every person, discrimination against others on the basis of race, color, national or ethnic origin, sex, age, or handicap is not acceptable.
- The failure to act with financial responsibility for bills, including rent of house or apartment.
- 10. Plagiarism and academic dishonesty. Students should neither participate in cheating nor encourage cheating by allowing it to go unreported. (See academic policy statements that deal with consequences of plagiarism and academic dishonesty.)

- 11. Students are also to acknowledge the following:
- I. As members of a Christian community, we are admonished to avoid certain practices, including, but not limited to, fornication, sexual promiscuity, adultery, pornography, any form of sexual misconduct (including behaviors such as voyeurism, indecent exposure, etc.). Students who demonstrate an attitude of disdain or disrespect toward these standards may be subject to disciplinary action.
- II. Students who are convicted of a felony while enrolled at FMI Biblical Studies and Seminary will be subject to immediate disciplinary suspension.

The following categories of discipline will apply to students who experience conduct and/or character difficulties.

Discipline

Students who fail to observe college regulations will be subject to one or all of the following disciplinary procedures:

- 1. Consultation with the Dean.
- 2. A required appearance before the student services committee composed of the Dean, one counseling faculty member, one additional faculty member, one staff member, and a student approved, and appointed, by the student development office.
- 3. Dismissal from college.

Due Process

Student rights to due process in disciplinary procedures are specified in the current Student Handbook.

Privacy Act (FERPA)

FMI Biblical Studies and Seminary complies with the Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act of 1974 (FERPA) which gives the student the right to know what information the college maintains about that student, the right to ensure the accuracy of that information, the right to know who has access to files of information and for what purposes, and the right to control to a significant extent the distribution of that information outside the institution.

The college considers some information to be directory information which may be disclosed to others without student permission. Educational records will not be released to individuals other than the student except as provided for by FERPA. This provision includes: (1) A parent who claims a student as a dependent on their most recent federal income tax form. The parent must submit a Parental Affidavit for Academic Information to access the student's record. (2) A person to whom a student grants access to his/her educational record by submitting a Student Consent for Release of Records. These forms must be submitted for each request.

Information regarding FERPA and forms necessary to withhold or release information may be obtained through the registrar's office.

Academic Probation: Undergraduate and Graduate Students

Undergraduate Students whose cumulative grade point average (GPA) falls below 2.0 at the end of any academic term will be placed on academic probation. Graduate Students whose cumulative grade point average (GPA) falls below 3.0 at the end of any academic term will be placed on academic probation. Periodic meetings with the academic advisors are mandatory while remedying the situation. Tutorial services are available for all students upon formal request.

Standards of Progress: Academic Probation Procedures

All students are required to meet Satisfactory Academic Progress. Academic warning/probation/suspension policies are designed to provide careful supervision of the program of study and progress of the student. Failure to meet satisfactory standards will place students on academic probation or academic suspension. Each semester's grades are reviewed to determine the attainment of satisfactory academic standards. Failure to meet these expectations will result in the following action:

Academic Warning

Students will be placed on Academic Warning if the student's semester GPA falls below (Undergraduate – 2.0 GPA or Graduate – 3.0 GPA). Academic Warning will not become a part of the official transcript. Students will be placed on Academic Warning during their enrollment at FMI Biblical Studies and Seminary for the following semester. [Students must meet once in a semester with his or her advisor, and it must be documented/signed]

Academic Probation

Students will be placed on Academic Probation if the student's overall GPA falls below (Undergraduate – 2.0 GPA or Graduate – 3.0 GPA). Academic Probation is reported on official transcripts. Students will be placed on Academic Probation during their enrollment at FMIBS&S for the following semester (There is, at least, a two-time meeting with an academic advisor required for probation).

*It is the student's responsibility to contact his or her advisor and set up an appointment, and it must be documented/signed.

Academic Suspension

Students who have been placed on Academic Probation, and it exceeded two consecutive semesters at any time during their matriculation at FMI Biblical Studies and Seminary; will be subject to Academic Suspension. Academic Suspension is reported on official transcripts. Students who are subject to Academic Suspension will be prohibited from returning to FMI Biblical Studies and Seminary if their academic performance indicates an inability or unwillingness to achieve normal progress toward a degree and then they will be suspended for one semester. This does not include summer terms. A second suspension will be for a minimum of a full calendar year. Following the suspension, the student must apply for re-enrollment to FMI Biblical Studies and Seminary. Re-enrollment requires the approval of the academic committee. Credit earned from another college or university during a period of academic-related suspension will not transfer to FMI Biblical Studies and Seminary.

Students Returning to the College Following Suspension

A student re-enrolled in the College following a period of suspension is automatically on academic probation.

Appeal

Students may appeal any determination given by the Probationary Review Committee in writing. Common circumstances and procedures used in appeals are:

- Death of a relative
- Personal injury or illness
- Physical disability
- Disagreement with Review Committee actions
- Proof that standards are now being met
- Creation of a revised time frame for work completion
- Other extraordinary circumstances

All costs of attendance incurred during the period of time is considered by FMI Biblical Studies and Seminary the responsibility of the student.

Students who have been reinstated will be provided a written progress or grade report at the end of each quarter. A copy of the report will be placed in the student's permanent file maintained by the school.

Attendance

Attendance will be taken at all class sessions. A substantial portion of student grades includes participation in class discussions. FMI Biblical Studies and Seminary believes class interaction is necessary to enrich student education. Prompt and consistent attendance is expected for all students enrolled at FMI Biblical Studies and Seminary.

- 1. Unexcused Absence When a student does not provide a formal excuse. In determining a student's final course grade, the student's cumulative final score will be reduced for each unexcused absence. When a student has four (4) unexcused absences from any one course in the fall/spring semester or three (3) unexcused absences in the 12-week summer semester or two (2) in the 6-week summer term, it will result in automatic withdrawal from that course, which may result in failure of that course.
- 2. Excused Absence To qualify as an "excused absence", your absence must have a formal excuse and be approved by your instructor prior to the particular class absence in question. Excused absences are not cause for automatic withdrawal; however, they may adversely impact overall performance.
- 3. Tardiness Classes start promptly at the scheduled time. "Tardy" is defined as arriving at least five (5) minutes after the official start time of a particular class. Three (3) "tardies" will be counted as one (1) unexcused absence

Students Seeking Readmission

Students returning to FMI Biblical Studies and Seminary after one year of non-attendance, are required to submit an application for readmission and official transcripts from all postsecondary institutions attended since the last date of attendance at FMI Biblical Studies and Seminary.

Students in this category may be required to complete the admissions process. This determination is at the discretion of the Registrar and the Office of Admissions.

NOTE: Returning students are eligible for readmission only if they are in good standing for the last term of attendance.

Students who are not in good standing or who have not served designated suspension periods may request readmission by appeal to the Admissions and Academic Standards Committee. Please see and follow the process for denial of admission listed below.

Appeal Process for Denial of College Admission

Applicants who meet minimum requirements and are denied admission to the college may appeal the denial. The decision to admit or uphold denial of admission will be based upon the merits of the applicant's appeal. FMI Biblical Studies and Seminary consider appeals submitted within 8 working days of the start date for the desired semester of attendance insufficient time to complete the appeal process. All appeals in this criterion will be reviewed for admittance in the following semester. The appeal process shall consist of the following steps:

Step 1: Admissions Staff Member

If an Admissions staff member denies admission to the applicant, the Admissions staff member shall provide the applicant with a copy of the appeal process. If the applicant wishes to appeal the denial, the staff member shall arrange an appeal meeting with the Dean of Admissions within two (2) working days of the denial.

Step 2: The Board of Appeals

The Dean of Admissions shall convene the Board of Appeals within three (3) working days of the applicant's appeal to the Board and advise the applicant of the date, time, and location of the appeal meeting. The Board of Appeals Chairperson shall notify the applicant of the Board's decision within three (3) working days from the date of the applicant's appeal meeting and shall provide the applicant with a written copy of the decision. The Board of Appeals shall consist of the following members:

Dean
Academic Dean
Member of the Faculty
Dean of Enrollment

The decision of the Admissions Board of Appeals is final and will be reached by simple majority vote. A copy of the Board of Appeals decision shall be maintained in the Admissions Office for two (2) years.

Misconduct Clause

The FMI Biblical Studies & Seminary reserve the right to deny admission to an applicant because of past misconduct, regardless of location, that may adversely affect the college community. Therefore, it is important for all applicants to provide complete and accurate information on the admissions application in regard to disciplinary action for scholastic or any other type of misconduct.

Grievance Procedure

FMI Biblical Studies and Seminary's business and student operations are designed to be administered in an atmosphere of collegiate congeniality. Civility, respect, the Golden Rule, and Christian attitudes and actions are expected of all faculty, staff, and students. Whenever a situation occurs that results in a student or faculty member feeling that he/she has been slighted, harassed, or abused—intentionally or unintentionally—the student or faculty member has a right to formally submit a grievance to the Seminary. FMI Biblical Studies and Seminary will not tolerate such behavior and will always act to rectify the situation. In order for FMI Biblical Studies and Seminary to officially respond, the student or faculty member must submit a "Grievance Form." The following policy/procedure concerns only Student Grievances while the detailed policy and procedures for grievances concerning Faculty can be found in the Faculty Handbook.

The "Student Grievance Form" may be obtained from the Dean, the Registrar, or any staff member in the front office.

The Student Grievance Procedures shall apply to student grievances relating to the following:

Student Programs, Facilities, and Services: Allegations of violations of FMIBS&S policies and procedures with respect to programs, services, activities or facilities.

Student Relations: Allegations of unfair treatment from faculty, administration, staff or fellow students.

INFORMAL

- 1a. The student is to first discuss the problem informally with the fellow student, faculty member, (Dean) designee or staff member involved and where appropriate, with supervisors or administrators at sequentially higher levels.
- 1b. A student may not proceed to formal review unless the informal review with those persons cited above has been exhausted.

FORMAL

- 1a. If for any reason the grievance is not resolved informally to the satisfaction of the student within a reasonable FMIBS&S period (minimum 3 work days; maximum 10 work days) the student should contact the Dean.
- 1b. The student shall prepare and submit a formal written complaint on a form provided by the Dean which shall serve as the basis for all further considerations.
- 1c. Dean shall investigate all of the facts upon which the complaint is based. As soon as practicable, the Dean shall notify the grievant of the results of the investigation.
- 1d. If for any reason the student is not satisfied with the results of the investigation conducted by the Dean, he/she may ask the Dean to submit the matter to the (Chancellor)
- 1e. As soon as practicable, the Dean shall:

- (i) prepare a statement summarizing the actions taken
- (ii) append such statement to the student's complaint form
- (iii) forward the complaint form to the Chancellor/ President
- 1f. Upon receipt of the formal complaint, the Chancellor shall review the grievance and the appeal. Within 10 work days following receipt of the complaint, the Chancellor shall render a decision and convey such decision to the student in writing.

Grievance Procedure Timeline

The following table outlines the order of and time lines for the steps of the grievance procedure. It is in everyone's best interest to reach resolution in a timely manner; therefore, every effort will be made to stay within the timelines listed below. Given the need to gather facts, and to review the claim, time frames may shift to accommodate schedules as needed; furthermore, the fact that a specified action is delayed does not dictate a breach of process or policy on FMI Biblical Studies and Seminary's part.

Files Complaint With	Grievance Claim - Time Frame	Response Given - Time Frame
Dean (verbally)	3 work days	Until determination that resolution cannot be reached verbally
Chancellor/President	10 work days	As outlined within policy
(in writing)	MI OTHER IN	TATIVIARY

General

- 1. Students: Complete the entire "Grievance Form" and give it to the Dean. The student may be asked to meet with the Dean in order to discuss the problem and the circumstances involving the incident(s).
- 2. Dean: Dean will undertake the first level of response. Dean will meet and speak with the offender and inform him/her that his/her actions may be in violation of FMI Biblical Studies and Seminary's policies. The offender will be instructed to cease any offending actions and warned not to repeat the behavior.
- a. Note: If the offender is an FMI Biblical Studies and Seminary student, the student's file will be noted to reflect that he/she received an official warning regarding inappropriate behavior. If the offense continues or either party does not agree with the determination of the Dean, the situation will be escalated to the Dean or President. In this situation, the Dean or President will counsel the student offender and provide them with a warning which will be placed in their permanent record. The Dean or President will determine the punitive measures the student will receive, which may include suspension and/or expulsion. In the event a student is expelled, no monetary refunds will be made under any circumstances.
- b. Note: If the offender is a member of FMI Biblical Studies and Seminary administration, faculty, or staff, the problem should be documented and given in written form to the Dean for evaluation. If the situation cannot be resolved by the Dean, the President should be involved with the process.
- 3. Appeal Clause: Any student or faculty member deemed culpable of inappropriate actions may make a formal appeal to the Dean or President of FMI Biblical Studies and Seminary. The Dean and President, after reviewing all documents and interview records, may elect to review the determination and speak with the appealer. If the President or Vice President feels the process has been adjudicated appropriately, the President will uphold the decision. If the President or Dean determine the action or process biased they reserve the right to overturn the decision without further consultation.

Miscellaneous General Provisions

Time Limits: All time limits contained in the foregoing procedure may be extended in writing by the Dean, or the President.

Confidentiality of Proceedings: FMIBS&S shall take all reasonable steps to ensure the confidentiality of all proceedings, and the records produced therefrom. However, should any matter developed during the proceedings become public knowledge, FMIBS&S reserves the right to issue appropriate statements.

Reinstatement Policy

A student who has been officially dismissed from FMI Biblical Studies and Seminary or any reason will have two (2) weeks to apply for reinstatement. The student's entire school record will be reviewed, and a personal interview with the Dean.

Academic Dean will be required for reinstatement.

Discipline

Rarely is it necessary for disciplinary actions to be imposed at FMI Biblical Studies and Seminary. When these occasions arise, FMI Biblical Studies and Seminary follows the restoration and reconciliation process described in Matthew 18:15. Students may be placed on a sixty day probationary period, which affords ample time for reform.

The President's Award

This award is given annually to outstanding graduates. The selection is made by the President and faculty based on the student's total academic experience at FMI Biblical Studies and Seminary.

FMI Biblical Studies and Seminary will provide transcripts to students and other institutions on request for a minimal fee, providing all other financial obligations have been met. Contact the Registrar for the fee amount.

Academic Integrity

FMI Biblical Studies and Seminary endeavors to create an environment of scholarly inquiry built upon Christian, and ministerial integrity. FMI Biblical Studies and Seminary's perspective on academic integrity is firmly grounded in the institution's mission statement: Our mission is to be a primary resource for the cities and communities we serve. We strive to provide guidance and the necessary elements to restore the economic, mental, and physical security of our students and faculties. We endeavor to provide quality yet economical education! We offer several degree options from Certificate programs to Doctorates.

Consequently, the administration and faculty of FMI Biblical Studies and Seminary take academic integrity seriously. Students in violation of FMI Biblical Studies and Seminary's Academic Integrity Policy are engaged in a wide range of activities including, but not limited to: plagiarism, dishonest testing, using proxies for test, purchasing papers, etc.

I. Categories of Academic Dishonesty with Definitions

Academic dishonesty is the failure to maintain academic integrity. FMI Biblical Studies and Seminary expects all members of the institution—students, faculty, and staff—to share the responsibility and authority to report known acts of academic dishonesty. Academic dishonesty includes, but is not limited to:

A. Plagiarism - the intentional or unintentional presentation of another person's words or ideas as one's own. Plagiarism includes, but is not limited to: copying verbatim all or part of another's written work; using phrases, charts, figures, illustrations, mathematical or scientific solutions without citing the source; paraphrasing ideas, conclusions, or research without citing the source in the text and in reference lists. Plagiarism is considered fraud and has potentially harsh consequences.

a. Categories of Plagiarism:

Accidental or Unintentional

A student may not know that he or she is plagiarizing. However, it is the student's responsibility to ensure that he or she understands the difference between quoting and paraphrasing, as well as the proper way to cite and delineate quoted material.

a. Prevention:

Students can avoid unintentional plagiarism by carefully following accepted scholarly practices. Notes taken for papers and research projects should accurately record the sources of the material. The notes should indicate whether the source is quoted, paraphrased, or summarized.

Students must both delineate (i.e., separate and identify) the copied text from their writing and give credit to (i.e., cite) the source of the copied text in accordance with accepted citation practices.

Blatant

Here, students are well aware that they are plagiarizing. This act includes, but is not limited to: turning in borrowed or purchased research papers as one's own.

Self

Turning in the same term paper (or substantially the same paper) for two courses without getting permission from one's instructor is plagiarism. Unless authorized by their instructors, students are expected to do their own original work on each assignment in each class. A student who recycles his or her course work from one class to another may face an allegation of academic dishonesty.

B. Cheating – the use or attempt to use unauthorized materials, information, or study aids in any academic exercise. This category also includes: obtaining or giving aid on an examination, presenting another's work as one's own or doing work for another student, having unauthorized prior knowledge of an examination, and using a proxy during an examination.

C. Fabrication - the falsification or invention of any information or citation in an academic exercise. Students are subject to the responsibility of academic integrity, which demands honesty and giving credit to the proper sources. Students who violate these guidelines will be counseled, reprimanded, and punished with a view towards restoration.

Grade Forgiveness Policy

FMI Biblical Studies and Seminary allows a student to retake a failed course in order to improve the grade for that course only if he/she has earned a "D" or "F" at the undergraduate level or a "C," "D," or "F" at the graduate level. An undergraduate course with a grade of "C" or better, or a graduate course with a grade of "B" or better will not be granted grade forgiveness.

A student may retake an existing course only once. The original grade remains on the transcript, but only the grade earned in the last attempt is used for calculating the grade point average (GPA), providing that the grade is not an "I" or "W." Permission for a second attempt will be considered only through an academic appeals process based on extenuating circumstances. The appeal request for a second attempt must be submitted in writing and accompanied by supporting documentation to the student's advisor. The student should check with the Office of Financial Aid about the possible financial consequences of repeating a course prior to withdrawing from the course.

FMI Biblical Studies and Seminary does not allow courses to be repeated for the purpose of changing a student's grade point average after an associate degree has been awarded; therefore, the Grade Forgiveness Policy pertains only up to the time of the degree conferral. If a student failed a course and a degree has been conferred, the Grade Forgiveness policy no longer applies.

A student who plans to transfer to another institution must check with that institution regarding the acceptance of "forgiven" courses in the calculation of the student's GPA.

Graduation

Upon completion of all requirements, distance learners may participate in the annual commencement ceremony.

All students are eligible to attend graduation ceremonies and receive earned degrees. The following must be met to fulfill graduation requirements:

- 1. Successful program completion (2.0 or higher).
- 2. A passing average on all written assignments, examinations, and research.
- 3. Completion of Christian service criteria.

- 5. If all requirements are not met, a degree will not be issued to the student. There are no exceptions.

Students may also be eligible to graduate "with honors." A GPA of 3.75 or higher constitutes "with honors."
